In the years Mitchell has been a community college, a number of changes have taken place. The college has expanded to include the Continuing Education Center on West Front Street, The Mooresville Center, and several new buildings on the main campus. The faculty and staff have doubled and increases in budget have been even more significant. The number of students has increased to almost fifteen hundred each fall in curriculum programs and four or five times that many in continuing education activities.

The greatest change is the number of opportunities people have to achieve educational goals in the multitude of instructional services provided by the college. The opportunities are the result of the quality and commitment of the faculty and staff. Mitchell has many student organizations as ever, and many students benefit from these additional opportunities. Student organizations are successful based upon effective leadership from faculty and staff sponsors as well as active participation by students of all ages.

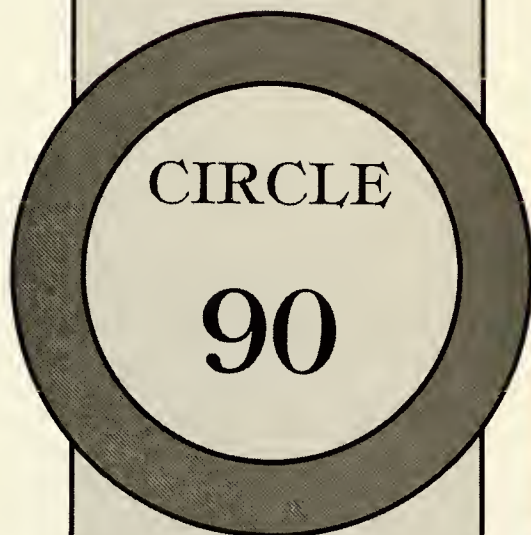

The history and traditions of Mitchell provide a positive foundation to continue building a college able to meet the educational needs of Iredell County into the decades ahead. The changes in programs and students reflect the changes in the area over that time period. It has been a privilege and pleasure to be part of these changes, and I am pleased with our progress to date.

Dr. Charles Poindexter
President
Mitchell Community College

DEDICATION

Sarah Bradley Davis graduated from Lee Edwards High School where she was active in the French, Latin and Sorority clubs. She also participated in Girl Scouts, and received its highest honor.

She attended UNC Greensboro and is married to Rudy Davis, owner of the Sports Locker. They have two children, Mike, who attends ASU and Susan, who is a student at Mitchell.

Sarah currently attends Beulah Baptist Church where she is a Sunday school teacher. At Mitchell, she is secretary to the Dean of Student Development and works on such projects as: the May Day program, Miss Mitchell, and is co-sponsor of the Freshman class.

To know her is to appreciate her. She is not only a dedicated secretary for Dean Bradshaw, but she is also a successful mother and wife. Mrs. Davis, Mitchell loves and respects you. Thank you for your dedication to us!

Lou Walker

Actor, Lou Walker, known for his roles in the TV series "In the Heat of the Night", the Mini Series, "North and South" and the cable TV production of "Cold Sassy Tree" recently made several appearances on the Mitchell Community College campus. Through his company, Paragon Industries, Mr. Walker conducted training workshops in May and June of this year for local aspiring actors and actresses.

STUDY

Some need quiet study time to themselves while others enjoy music and friends to study with.

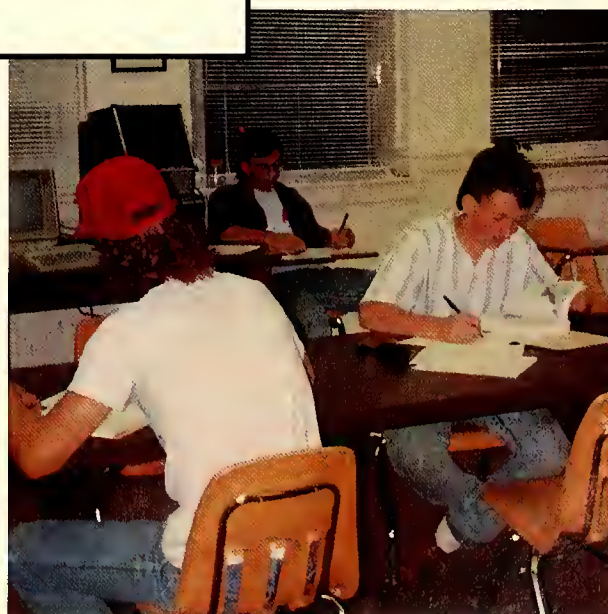

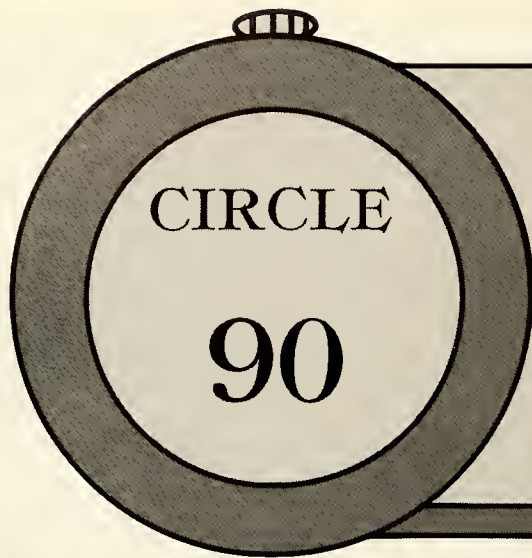

Mitchell students use their imaginations to find places to study: the Circle, steps, lab and classroom.

It has often been said that our college years are the best times of our lives. Those of us who have experienced this agree wholeheartedly. It is a time to learn of different cultures, experience various personalities and even make mistakes. It is also a time to build many memories that will be with us wherever we may go. Even such memories as being in the wrong classroom or getting one parking ticket too many, will be revived and laughed at, embarrassing as they were at the time!!

The act of making memories is so intense that often we forget the real reason we are in college and that is to gain a quality education. Success can only come from studying and perseverance.

There are many popular places on campus to study: the library, empty classrooms, the Science and Vocational building's waiting areas, under the circle tree, outside the main building, on Mitchell Hinge and even inside cars.

May Week

This years May Week captured the attention of the Mitchell Community College population. The annual exhibit in the Wallace House allowed art students to shine. The week was capped off with May Day including the presentation of the May Court and crowning of the new May Queen, Lori Hardy Travis. Entertainment that day was provided by the MCC Choir, the Spiritual Heirs Gospel Singing group, and Landa Drum Wheeler.

Later that evening, faculty, staff, students and alumni performed in the Mitchell Community College's Talent Show. On Saturday the Alumni Luncheon brought the week to an end with lots of classmates reunited.

Talent Shows

Watch out Star Search, here come Mitchell Community College talent shows! The year of 1989 showcased the immense talent present at Mitchell. With shows done during the day and one at night, the students, faculty, staff and alumni were able to showcase their talents before a very receptive audience. Various acts were performed which included, singers, dancers, piano players, an accordion player, a saxophone player, a clogger, and even a clown.

Through the hard work of Laura Snoddy, Sam Tate and many others, the show went fabulously well and sparked the interest of MCC "Family" members. With continued encouragement and support these talent shows will more than likely become one of the nicest traditions Mitchell has ever had.

CIRCLE 90

S. G. A. Picnic

With hotdogs in hand, MCC students proceeded to cast ballots in another fall election on October 4, 1989. Posters and stickers announcing which candidate to elect were present as well as the candidates themselves doing last minute campaigning. By the end of the day Mitchell had new SGA & class officers. Sophomore class is represented by Lisa Holt, President; Rhonda Taylor, Vice-President; Susan Davis, Secretary/Treasurer. The Freshman elected Beth Key, President; Rccia Reavis, Vice-President; Jennifer Gantt, Secretary/Treasurer. Assisting SGA President & Vice-President Margo Ervin and Anthony Privette are new officers Steven Johnson, Secretary and Bill Connelly, Treasurer.

The picnic provided convenient quick lunches for students, faculty and staff while also allowing everyone to come together and socialize in between the daily grind of classes.

Class Activities

From leaf collecting to touring N.C. Prisons, classroom activities extend much further than just listening to the teacher and taking notes. These activities allow the students to get involved in the subject and spark their interest. They are given hands on experience which is usually a lot of fun also.

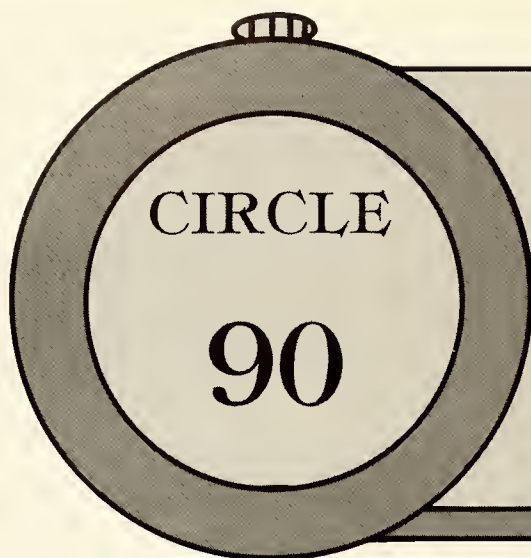

Students tend to remember the classes which allowed them to participate, experiment and observe while at the same time, learn the subject thoroughly.

Parking

Enter a student late for class — the teacher says, "John, you just missed a pop quiz." "Well, I would have been on time if I had to just walk the usual two blocks to class, but today I had to walk five."

Parking, a serious issue for the students at MCC. If you're not parking on the grass five blocks down the street, or under a not-so-sturdy fifty foot tree, consider yourself privileged.

Still yet, the old saying goes, "If you would get to school early, you could find 'somewhere' to park." Pish, pish! If everyone came early, there wouldn't miraculously appear a needed one hundred new parking spaces.

So get up out of bed, get ready for school, and pray earnestly the whole way to school that you don't have to park at the mall and walk or rather run to class.

The Learning Resources Center is comprised of the Library and the Audio-Visual Center. The library includes microfilm and microfiche machines, indexes, reference materials and the list goes on. The A.V. Center has the ability to create video and audio tape productions, lettering machines and graphics for posters, transparency production, lamination and much more. The A.V. Center also maintains audiovisual materials and equipment for the college.

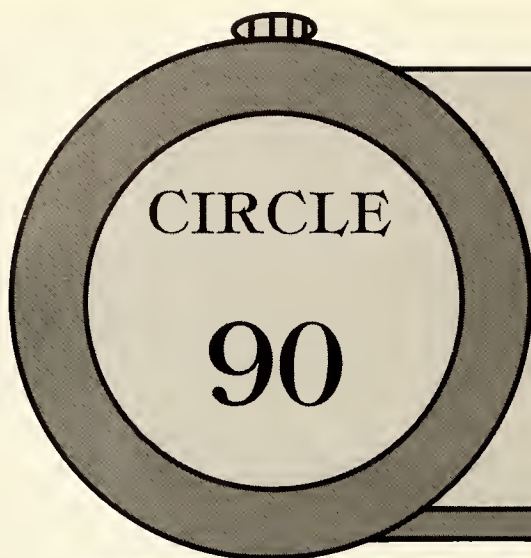

We are greatly in debt to those persons in the LRC. Without their helpfulness, we would have great difficulty making it through our classes.

Mitchell Candids

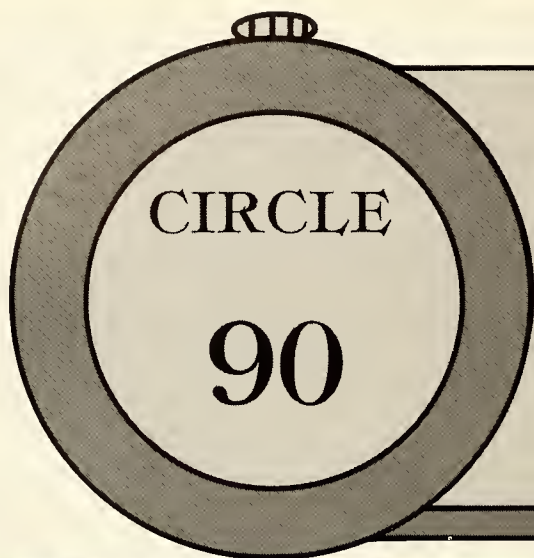

Mitchell Community College possesses a vast amount of personages. While walking across the Circle, through the parking lots, or down the halls, one encounters a flood of friendly faces. The many expressions reflect the diversity of our institution including all types from the light-hearted to the serious and from the extravagant to the modest. One of the most unique aspects of Mitchell is its ability to bring together this multitude of personalities. Mitchell Community College prides itself in fostering such an amicable atmosphere.

Have You Heard the News?

Friday, September 22, 1989, a night and morning of terror and surprise. However, the horror of Hugo came afterwards. Mitchell had its share of downed trees and broken limbs. School was cancelled Friday, Monday and Tuesday. For some families, power and water was unknown in their homes for two weeks. For others, trees were the cause of tremendous damage to their homes and cars. With the tragedy came a community spirit. Everyone worried about their neighbor with a caring and loving attitude.

Tuesday, October 31, 1989. Halloween day. A day filled with costumes and candy. The Criminal Justice club provided a safe trick or treat for children in the Student Union. They also gave out glow-in-the-dark arm bands to children that help motorists see them better. Phi Beta Lambda sold Halloween candy, an annual fund raiser.

Miss Mitchell

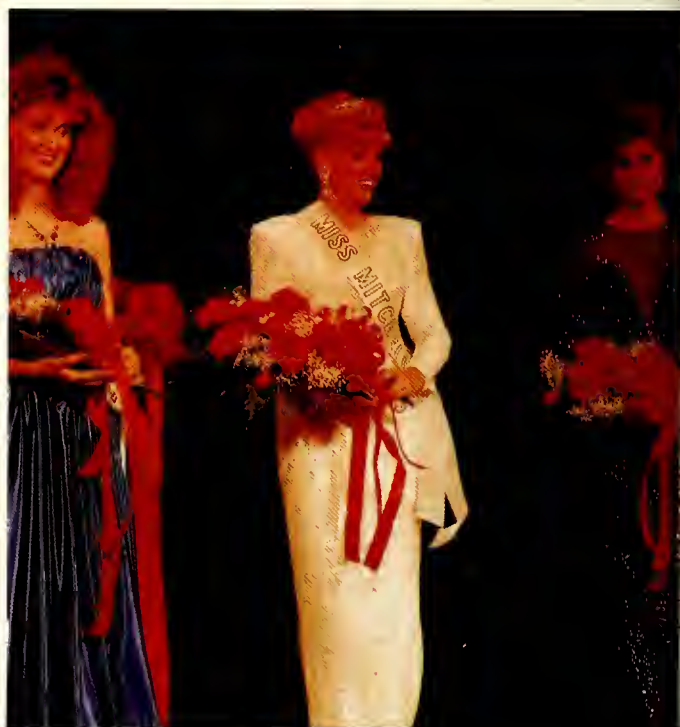

"Contestant #3, Ranita Jo Rash is our new Miss Mitchell!" That statement followed a night of glitz, glamor, and special entertainment on Saturday, November 4th. The theme, Rock Around the Clock, was carried out through the evening in many performances including 1989 Miss Mitchell Susie Davis' dance to "Great Balls of Fire".

Five contestants competed for the title of Miss Mitchell 1990. First runner-up to Miss Rash was Tricia Reich and Miss Congeniality was Angi Brewer. Other contestants included Rhonda Taylor and Allison Jarvis.

Miss Rash is the daughter of Allen and Corrine Rash of Union Grove. She is a 1989 graduate of North Iredell High School and a pre-liberal arts major at Mitchell.

Fads and Fashions

As the years change, so do the fads and fashions of the time. Ten years ago, disco music was just about to fizzle out and pop/rock was taking its place. The main characteristic of today is variety. Everyone wears exactly what they want to from different time periods. There are tie dyed shirts that were popular in the sixties, classic styles from the thirties and forties and music with a beat from the fifties.

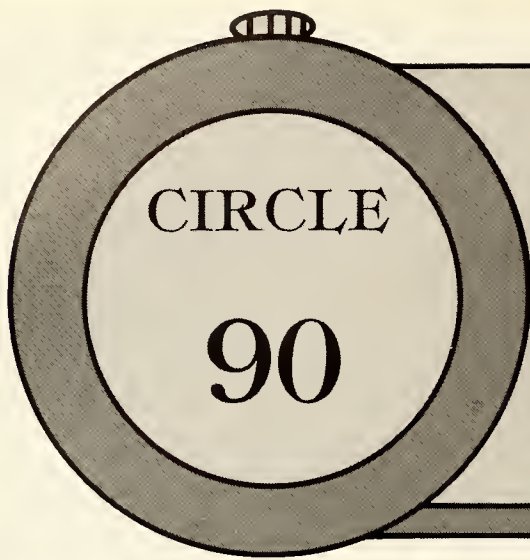

Fads and fashions also stem from current movies. The Batman craze is still in full swing and is apparent everywhere you turn around. So we see, from generation to generation, fads and fashions evolve and revolve.

The assembly is the time to award students who have excelled in academics, sports, club participation and other activities. The Yearbook advisor, editors, and staff work on developing the Circle publication during spring, summer, fall, and winter quarters. The Circle is a student publication, and is funded by student fees, advertisements and funds transferred from auxiliary services. The integrity of the yearbook is assured through the supervision by the advisor, a professional staff member. The college retains rights of editorship of publications.

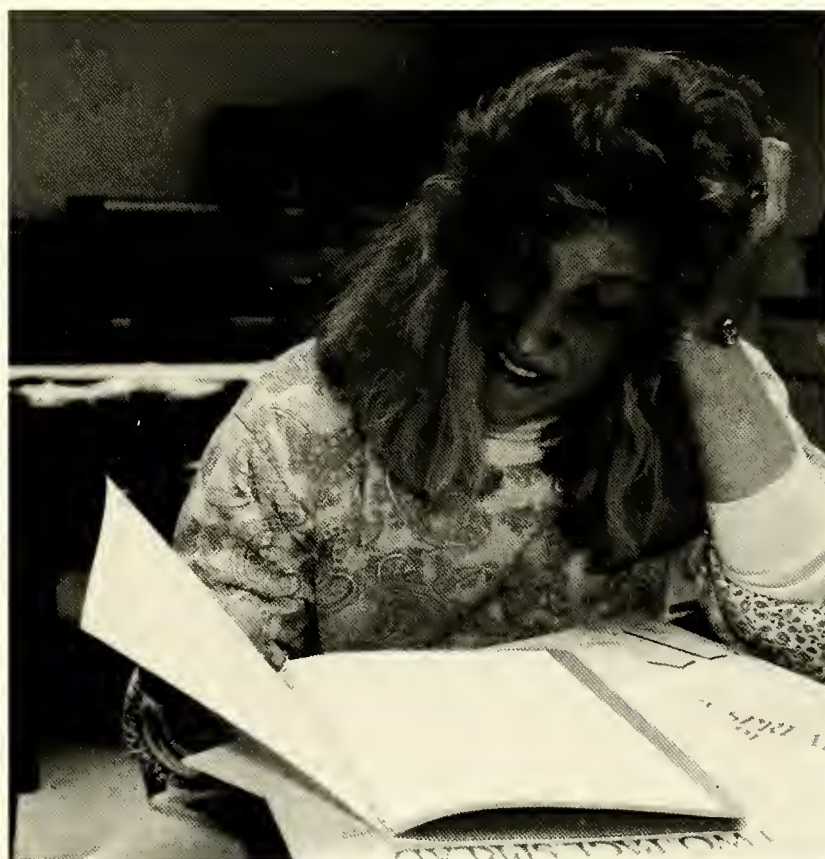

The 1989-90 staff consisted of: Beth Leftwich, advisor; Judy Phillips, Laura Snoddy, Rhonda Taylor, Landa Wheeler, Jim Jones, Neil Martin, Lisa Wooten, and Karen Flowers.
